General Maxwell D. Taylor
The Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff
The Pentagon
Washington, D. C.

Dear General Taylor:

Following up on your letter of 1 July in response to my memorandum of the same date, and your phone call this morning, I want to assure you that the only actions we have taken have been to exchange views with Peter deSilva in Saigon who, in turn, has had an exploratory discussion with Alexis Johnson. We have alerted some of our old South Vietnamese hands, but have not moved any people at all.

I am sorry if we gave you the impression of making an end run--this was certainly not the intention since I wrote to you, and only to you, and you are the coach, the captain, and the quarterback of the team.

We will continue to make suggestions wherever we feel we can be helpful. I can assure you that the assets of the Agency are at your disposal. You need only to tell us how you would like us to help.

Faithfully yours,

/s/

MEMORANDUM FOR: General Maxwell D. Taylor
The Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff
The Pentagon

SUBJECT: CIA Operations in Vietnam

1. In the course of your briefing on 27 June, I understand you gave general approval for a substantial expansion of CIA's activities in Vietnam in connection with counterinsurgency. Our present thinking is that this would involve a step-up of our efforts in intelligence and counterintelligence, political action and irregular paramilitary activities. Arrangements will be necessary to insure that this expansion is appropriately coordinated with the operations of MACV, USOM, USIS, etc., but that at the same time we retain the flexibility essential to successful CIA operations.

2. In the intelligence field, as was reported to you, there have been continued good relationships between military and civilian intelligence activities. We believe that there is more that can be done, especially in [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] military operations in the "hold" phase. In this area, we believe the lines of coordination and collaboration have been established, and that it needs only firm direction and encouragement.

3. With respect to [REDACTED] arrangements for coordination and Ambassadorial control are also adequately established and I believe you will be fully satisfied as to your full knowledge and control of these operations.

25X1

4. In the paramilitary field, I believe there is an area of ambiguity as to just how irregular forces can best contribute and how they should be best related to the operations of ARVN, the Regional Forces and the Popular Forces. From DOD, there is a definite contribution to such irregulars which can be made and is highly necessary. Coordination between DOD and CIA has been satisfactorily arranged in the past with the U. S. Army Special Forces, and I am sure that some similar arrangement can be accomplished again. I suggest that the problem be examined and a program developed on the ground with the assistance of a representative of JCS/SACSA and Mr. William Colby of CIA. To these two, I would recommend the addition of General Victor Krulak, as I suggest that the Fleet Marine Forces Pacific may be able to provide the DOD input into such a combined operation in the manner this was done in the past by the U. S. Special Forces, thereby avoiding any interference with the U. S. Army Special Forces current missions and undue calls on their available resources.

25X1 5. In order to provide the fastest possible expansion of CIA's 25X1 operations in Vietnam, I am arranging for the dispatch of [ ] 25X1 [ ] officers who served tours in Vietnam and who developed [ ] there in the past. These officers will be understudied by additional personnel experienced in such operations but who may be relatively new to Vietnam.

6. If this proposal meets with your general approval, I will have Mr. Colby contact JCS/SACSA and General Krulak to arrange for an early visit to Vietnam to help initiate the above developments. A telephone call to me will suffice.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Plans

I have just reviewed the proposed briefing for General Taylor with Bill Golby and offer the following suggestions:

1. Run-down on the current station activities be succinct and brief.

2. Particular qualifications of personnel be emphasized. In this connection I am committed to the President to put the best and most experienced CIA personnel in Saigon. I wish that you would search these out and move them from posts anywhere in the world to Saigon where they are needed. I do not think it wise to depend on "new Saigon hands." It is better to reinforce the station with capable men with past SVN experience irrespective of personal hardships.

4. I want to demonstrate to Taylor a willingness to do anything and everything to put the show on the road and to give them support and I do not want to protect anyone, including General Taylor himself, from past errors.

5. Above all we must meet the Presidential directive of supplying the best and most capable men available and I am afraid the Division is not planning things that way.

I wish you would get into this matter personally and in depth prior to the briefing Saturday morning.
